In automation since 1976

CMZ SISTEMI ELETTRONICI develops and supplies fully customizable hardware and software systems based on your project, integrating “turnkey” motion control configurations with the optimization of your engineering and development costs. Made in Italy reaches its full expression also in the automation industry.

CMZ has been operating in industrial motion control since 1976 by offering solutions and components for multi-axis control, developed for OEM manufacturers of automatic machines and system integrators with open-frame logic, for integration with all the main drives on the market.

The company is based in Northern Italy and operates internationally thanks to a network of automation partners.
